OPINION AND COMMENT

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT The "President's Report," embracing reports from the President, the Acting President, and various University officers for the year ending December 1, 1913, presents an extended and exceedingly interesting story of University development. The opening of the School of Education, the record registration in the Summer and regular sessions, the growth of the Bureau of Extension, the increased circulation of the REVIEW, the new lease on life taken by athletic interests, the heartening spirit of student and faculty co-operation running through the whole gamut of University life—these are some of the matters embodied in the account transmitted by the Acting President to the Trustees which make the report for 1913 epochal.

NUMBERS The size of the regular Freshman class—269—and the total enrolment—875—naturally challenge first attention. The University has drawn to its courses a splendid lot of new men and has held an increased per cent of former students. From a count made one month after the opening of the term it was apparent that 23 counties of the State had sent 10 or more students, with Meeklenburg leading with 41. On the other hand Graham, Clay, Swain, Transylvania, Rutherford, Mitchell, Polk, Brunswick, Dare, Currituck, Stokes, and Avery—twelve counties—were not represented. A revised count, which the REVIEW contemplates carrying in an early issue, will show an increased number of counties contributing more than 10 and fewer counties contributing none. Of the 875 students, all except 49 are residents of North Carolina.

BUILDINGS 1913 was pre-eminently a building year. Caldwell Hall, the new dormitories, and the Peabody Building were all brought into full service for the first time. The long-needed filtration plant and the new dining hall were begun and are now well under way. When the alumni return at commencement it is confidently expected that the water in the spigots will rival that from the "Well" in clarity and purity, and that the Alumni Luncheon will be served in the spacious New Commons. The reports of the various deans and officers itemize the additional equipment in the form of apparatus, books, etc., all of which go into the making of an increasingly Greater University.

NEW FORCES AT WORK Important as this material growth has been, the getting under way of the School of Education during the Fall, the upbuilding of the 1913 Summer School, and the more thorough organization of the work of the Bureau of Extension, represent an even more valuable achievement. Handicapped in previous years by a lack of quarters and teachers for the Department of Education, the University has been unable to give the schools of the State anything like the full service it desired. With three new instructors added and the present equipment, it now has the opportunity to realize the ideal of service it has long held.

GETTING IN TOUCH The REVIEW shares the opinion expressed by the Director of the Summer School that the Summer School of 1913 was very potent in bringing the University into sensitive touch with the State. Several very definite impressions were made upon the teacher-students. One was that the University was a genuine university capable of giving helpful instruction. Another, that it gave something which heartened the teachers for the task of educational uplift back home. Still another, that the University belonged to them, that it was theirs, and that its desire to stand behind them in their work was thoroughly genuine. Strong in this belief, they went back to their schools and homes with the result that wherever they are there are outlets through which the University can touch the life of the State.

EXTENSION Through the co-operation of the faculty, the Societies, the Athletic Association, and the Greater Council, the University took a far step forward during the year "in making the campus co-extensive with the bounds of the State." The quotation is from the Acting President's program of work as given on Oct. 12. Expressed statistically, 101 lectures have been offered clubs, schools and communities of the State to be given wherever they are demanded. One hundred high schools were brought together in the Debating Union contest of last March and 150 are now preparing for the coming contest in April. Five bulletins issued in the Extension series, and totaling 15,000 copies, have been distributed. Twelve correspondence courses have been opened to teachers and others who could not otherwise secure instruction from the University. Two State-wide athletic meets were provided for Secondary Schools. 2,000 letters were written by the various divisions of the Bureau of Extension in answer to inquiries for information, and 12,000 separate pieces of mail, including letters, bulletins, leaflets, etc., were sent out during the twelve months from the office of the High School Inspector.

NEEDED BUILDINGS Certain needs of the University are set forth in the reports. Among these suitable buildings for Physics, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Geology, Pharmacy, and the Y. M. C. A. are most pressing. For years the laboratory quarters of the departments mentioned have been in the basement of the administration building or in buildings poorly adapted to the best grade of work.

CORRELATION OF COURSES A second need mentioned in the reports, one which is fundamental, and to which the attention of the University has previously been called, is that of so correlating the courses now offered by the University, the Summer School, and the correspondence division as to enable students pursuing them to receive definite credits according to the character of the courses taken. For work done both in the Correspondence and Summer courses, three or four different kinds of credits should be given. To begin with, an arrangement should be perfected with the State Department of Education whereby work completed in certain courses should entitle those completing them to certificates which would admit them to positions of a specified character in the public schools. Work completed in other courses should be accepted by the University for entrance, while work in still other courses should lead to regular University credits. In addition to this, as the system is developed, work extending over as many as four Summer sessions in graduate subjects should lead, in the case of graduates of reputable colleges, to the degree of A. M. If need be, the courses leading to this degree could be confined largely to those given by the School of Education.

With the present appropriation of $2,000 for the Summer School and the limited number of correspondence courses offered, it is probable that not much can be done, but the fact that study at Columbia University during the Summer session may be counted for an advanced degree, constitutes one of the chief reasons—there are others of course—why one hundred North Carolina teachers go there annually and many others go to Knoxville and Charlottesville, where valuable credits are also given, instead of attending the Summer School of Chapel Hill. Such an arrangement will save North Carolina teachers money, in that expenses are lower in Chapel Hill than in New York; a serious, high-minded body of students will be brought to the University for continuous work; and the University will have an opportunity to come into such vital contact with principals and superintendents now not reached, that it can exert upon the public school work of the State a many fold greater influence than it is exerting today.

A MEDIUM OF COMMUNICATION Still another need, one hitherto unexpressed, has been presented—the need of a medium of communication through which the University can give, direct, an account of its work to the people. This need is voiced by the Schools of Applied Science and Medicine in relation to work in various courses and is strongly felt by the Bureau of Extension, though it was not expressed. An analysis of the publications going from the University will show that they are (a) technical and scholarly, like Studies in Philology; (b) official, like the Catalogue; and (c) special, like the High School Bulletin and the Bulletins of the Bureau of Extension. The REVIEW, to be sure, goes to the alumni (1,500 of the 7,000!), and the daily press recounts the purely news features, but the University has no medium through which it can go directly to the people by whom it is supported and to whom it would render full service. The answer to this need is a live, popular, University publication issued regularly and with sufficient frequency to keep the work before the people. If the University, through its officers and teachers, has information on public health, on social service, on municipal and State legislation, on public education, on highway construction, on rural co-operation, on a hundred other things—if it has information to give and helpful suggestions to make, it should not have to depend upon classroom activities, occasional or technical publications and academic discussions, as its sole means of communication, but should offer them direct to the public through a publication of the character indicated.

ALUMNI REUNIONS

Plans are already under way for a big reunion at Commencement. The Alumni Committee is now in communication with the classes of 1864, 1889, 1894, 1904, and 1909 which are scheduled to hold official reunions this year. Other classes are being urged to hold unofficial meetings, and the suggestion has been made of bringing 1913 back in full force although it has been away from the Hill only one year.

Back in 1911 when the plans for the organization of the General Alumni Association had been adopted only a short time, it was frequently predicted that within a very few years the campus would be dotted with alumni tents during Commencement week and that the "old grad," with "stunts" similar to those familiar to many campuses, would over-run the grounds. That has not happened yet, but it can be effected and it would be wholly worth while. Virginia effected it last year through the local committee and the class of 1908 and Minnesota is planning it this year and will use the class of 1904 as the organizer and director of all alumni festivities. Is there a volunteer among the classes of U. N. C.?

The presence of 1913 on the campus in June, or any time, will bring joy to alma mater. 1913's loyalty and spirit constitute one of her most cherished memories.

PROFESSOR BRANSON

The announcement of the election of Prof. E. C. Branson to the new chair of Applied Economics and Rural Sociology is of signal importance to the University and the State. It marks the further committment of the University to the policy of directing its forces in those currents which lead to the uplift and upbuilding of the Old North State. It is a further development of the plan of making the University campus State-wide.

Professor Branson comes admirably fitted for his work. He is a native Tar Heel. He is a skilled, effective educator. He is a trained sociologist and has first hand knowledge of the economic and social conditions in the South. He brings to the University an idea which he has contributed to American education—the idea of having students study minutely and sympathetically the economic and social life of their own communities to the end that when they leave college they will go back to their own people to aid them in the right solution of all their economic and social questions. The State is to be congratulated on his coming.

THE Y. M. C. A. UNDER REVIEWThe Greatest Need of this Wide-Awake Institution is a New Building

The work of the Young Men's Christian Association has continued its healthy growth of last year in taking several important forward steps. Among the first in point of time was the reception to the new men which the Social Committee, Philip Woolcott and Francis Clarkson, removed from a fruit punch in the Association Lobby to a reception by the whole college in the University Library.

The community interest and sustained energy of Manager George Eutsler has caused the book exchange to grow into a pretty big thing, doing business not only at the beginning of each term but running through the year.

Bible Study Work has been organized in a very efficient way by Tom Boushall, chairman. Three hundred and twelve men have been enrolled in over a score of groups and have met every Sunday with an average attendance of one hundred and forty men in the dormitories, fraternity, houses and boarding places.

Walter Fuller, in the neighborhood work, has kept the young life of the campus in touch with the rural communities within a four mile radius. He has caught the true spirit of the social service movement and has made his department not only a matter of the country Sunday school but of boys' clubs and other rural organizations as well. Eighteen men have helped him and his lieutenant, B. F. Auld, in making this work go.

The weekly meetings on Tuesday and Thursday nights have been arranged in definite schedules. Two series were given on Tuesday nights in the Fall, the first devoted to the theme of "College Men and Religion," and the other to North Carolina problems of taxation, education, morals, health, conservation, constitution and religion. The Thursday night meetings were short prayer meetings led by students who discussed the temptations and problems of the campus. Six of these meetings were given over to the study of negro life in the South.

The negro work has taken a long step forward. In three negro Sunday schools students teach classes. A night school is conducted five nights in the week for the negro boys who are unable to go to day school. Ten students are engaged in this work and have an average class of fifteen boys.

Two hundred and five dollars have been sent to date to the New York office for the Barnett mission fund. Chairman House and his assistant, Collier Cobb, Jr., expect to send another large check later in the term. This fund, which goes into the work of Eugene Barnett, at the great student centre, Hangchow, China, will perhaps go further in its permanent results both actively and reflexly than any equivalent amount of money that goes from Chapel Hill this year. A new and deeper impulse is given the work here by this giving to the needs of young China and the sympathies of the student body are widened with the vision of the mission movement which seeks to save the world through the ideals and personality of Christ. The enthusiasm of the five Kansas City delegates has not only called attention to the value of the Barnett fund but has also awakened interest in the whole Student Volunteer Movement for the evangelization of the world.

The financial system of the Association, which was put on a good basis by Treasurer Lee Wiggins last year, has been reorganized with even greater efficiency. Dr. L. R. Wilson of the faculty, at the request of the general secretary and the student treasurer, consented to serve as active advisory treasurer. All monies however small are checked out by the treasurer and countersigned by Dr. Wilson. Every bill is scrutinized by him and paid upon his approval. Receipts are also given for all monies received and are required for all monies paid out.

Whether the Association will come out even or not cannot yet be said. Many improvements have been made in the appearance and the upkeep of the building and aggressive moves have been made in the conduct of the several departments. The integrity of the financial system and the soundness of the work itself are due to the fine spirit of co-operation between the faculty and the students. The members of the faculty have given their thought and money to the success of the work and the students have worked gladly and tirelessly. President J. E. Holmes has about him a splendid cabinet of workers in H. S. Willis, W. P. Fuller, T. C. Bonshall, R. E. Parker, F. O. Clarkson, J. E. Turlington, G. W. Entzler, R. B. House, P. W. Woolcott, J. A. Holmes, L. H. Ranson and C. E. Ervin.

Everywhere the need is felt for a Y. M. C. A. building costing not less than $75,000 and equipped to be a real student centre. The present cabinet started quietly in October a movement which looks to the erection of such a building. Seventy-five thousand dollars sounds like a dream but the need is big enough to make the dream come true in the present college generation.

LITERARY SOCIETY ACTIVITIES

Four Hundred Students Train for Leadership in Public Discussion

The month of February finds the "Di" and "Phi" Societies in the midst of their debating activities and preparations for this year. In the matter of inter-collegiate debates, a triangle has been formed consisting of the University of North Carolina, the University of Virginia, and Johns Hopkins University, for a triangular debate on April 18th. The query is "Resolved, that the political interests of the United States demand the abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine." Each University will put out two teams, one on the affirmative and the other on the negative. Carolina will have the negative against Virginia and the affirmative against Johns Hopkins. The debates will all be held on neutral grounds; Carolina and Virginia will meet at Baltimore, Carolina and Johns Hopkins at Charlottesville, and Virginia and Johns Hopkins at Chapel Hill.

Already a representative number of students are at work preparing to enter the preliminaries for these debates. Any student of the University who is a member of either society is eligible to enter the preliminary contests. Usually those who compete for places on the teams come from the Junior and Senior classes and the Law School. In the thirty-seven debates that have been engaged in by Carolina with other Universities, from Pennsylvania to Tulane and Vanderbilt, twenty-seven have been victories for Carolina. Out of the last twelve debates, only one has been lost. The winning of a place on a debating team is an honor that is highly prized and much striven for by University students. The debates themselves are events that are not surpassed in importance and universal interest by anything that happens on the campus during the course of the year. The debates this Spring with Virginia and Johns Hopkins are being looked forward to with eagerness by the student body.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Just at this time, too, interest is gathering not only in Chapel Hill, but all over the State in the approaching State-wide contest of the High School Debating Union. The effect of the extension of the societies' work last year to the high schools is seen in an active interest in debating in almost any school that might be selected in North Carolina. Already one hundred and fifty high schools have enrolled in the Union, and have been arranged in triangles for debates on March 20th. All the schools which win both of their debates in this contest will send both teams to Chapel Hill on April 3rd to take part in the final contest. To the school winning out finally will be awarded the Aycock Memorial Cup, the prize which has been generously contributed to the Union by the inter-collegiate debaters of the University. This cup was awarded last year to the Pleasant Garden High School, of Guilford County.

The query that will be discussed by all of these schools is, "Resolved, That the Constitution of North Carolina should be so amended as to allow the Initiative and Referendum in State-wide legislation." A considerable amount of material on this question, including one sixty-page extension series publication devoted exclusively to a study of the Initiative and Referendum, and several thousand Congressional speeches and documents, has been sent to the schools from Chapel Hill. The support given to the movement by the school men and the active interest in debating and discussion of public questions all over North Carolina are an abundant justification of the wisdom of the Societies in extending their work to the high schools which form the lower part of the State's educational system. Every school is intent upon bringing the Aycock Cup home, and there is no doubt but that a warm and interesting contest will be staged in North Carolina on the dates of March 20th and April 3rd.

THE SOCIETIES ON THE CAMPUS

The inter-collegiate debates rest for their support and for the training of their participants upon the inter-society and intra-society debates. There are three inter-society debates held every year. These are the Soph-Junior, held in December; the Fresh-Soph, held in April; and the Commencement debate, held on Tuesday night of Commencement week. These debates are usually close and always warmly contested. At present the interest centers mostly in the Fresh-Soph, and the Commencement debates. Two Juniors from each Society represent their Society respectively in the Commencement debate.

To the best speaker on the winning side in this debate the Bingham Medal is awarded. Beginning in 1912, the Carr Medal in oratory has been contested for during Junior Week by two Juniors chosen in competition from each Society. The places on all of these teams are filled in competitive, preliminary contests.

Besides these inter-society contests, a Freshman Debate is held separately in each Society. In both societies the final speakers are selected in competitive contests. In the final contest in the Philanthropic Society there are two speakers to a side, and the man making the best speech is awarded a prize of ten dollars. The Dialectic Society provides for four speakers to a side, and gives a distinctive gold clasp pin to the man who makes the best speech.

Regular debates are held in the two Societies on Friday and Saturday nights of each week. Only the speakers are required to attend the Friday night meetings. Membership is not compulsory, but notwithstanding this fact, the greater number of the students join one or the other of the societies and find in them what is considered by many as the best training provided at the University. From early times those from the East have joined the Philanthropic Society, and those from the West have joined the Dialectic Society.

UNIVERSITY LECTURE COURSE

In this, the second year in which the University has supplied a course of public lectures for the benefit and pleasure of students and faculty, the committee has again sought to secure variety of interest, as well as high excellence in subject at presentation. Owing in large measure to the alterations in the dates originally set for the Japanese Exchange Lectures and the McNair Lectures, it was found difficult to secure open available dates for the University Lectures. The lectures which have already been delivered are Joel Chandler Harris and the Uncle Remus Stories, by Mr. R. T. Wyche, President of the National Story-Tellers League, on November 24, 1913; and Dr. Gaillard Hunt, Chief of the MSS. Division, Library of Congress, on January 16, 1914. On March 25, the famous physician and popular writer, Dr. Woods Hutchison, will speak here; and in May, Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, Director of the Bureau of Mines, who has recently visited Alaska in the interest of the U. S. Government, will speak on "Our Great Northwestern Empire." A consistent and prolonged effort has been made to secure Alfred Noyes, one of the greatest living poets; and the hope is still advanced that he may visit the institution this Spring.

CAROLINA ADOPTS NEW ELIGIBILITY RULES

Hereafter Carolina and Virginia will be Governed by Almost Identical Regulations

At its regular January meeting the faculty adopted the following code of eligibility rules:

ELIGIBILITY RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY

1. No student whose parents or guardians object to his participation in athletic contests shall be allowed to take part in such contests.

2. No student shall play upon the University athletic teams except after physical examination by the Director of the Gymnasium (or by a responsible expert officer of the University acting in his stead and by his request) and with the approbation of the Director.

3. A student who was in attendance upon the University during a previous term or session must have passed satisfactory examinations upon at least eight hours of work before he will be allowed to represent the University in any athletic contest.

4. Inasmuch as a member of an athletic team of this University is a representative student and enjoys special honor in thus representing the University, this privilege shall be withheld from any student whose scholastic standing is discreditable. A preliminary report of the scholastic standing of the members of the football team shall be called for on October 15th and of the baseball team on March 15th, and the players notified of their deficiencies. Another report shall be called for on November 15th for the football team and April 15th for the baseball team, at which time any player deficient in a majority of his studies shall be debarred from representing the University during the remainder of the term.

5. The members of any athletic team may be allowed not more than ten lecture days leave of absence from the University for the purpose of engaging in athletic contests; but no student who is a member of more than one athletic team shall be allowed more than twenty lecture days leave of absence during the entire session for such purpose.

6. The manager of each athletic team shall submit to the Faculty Committee on Athletics or to the President a schedule of all engagements before positive arrangements are made.

7. Before any student can become a member or a substitute member of any athletic team in the University, and take part in any intercollegiate contest, he must make application to the Faculty Committee on Athletics in the University and secure the endorsed approval of that Committee to his application. It shall be the duty of the Faculty Committee on Athletics to have the Executive officers of the University endorse such application to the effect that the applicant is a registered student of the University.

8. It shall be the duty of the Athletic Committee to inquire into and make a record of the athletic experiences of the applicant, and it shall be the duty of the applicant to appear before the Committee and answer on his honor such questions as the Committee may see fit to ask.

9. It shall be the duty of the Athletic Committee to require a pledge in writing of the applicant, certifying on his honor that he has never accepted, directly or indirectly, remuneration, compensatory gift, valuable consideration, or promise thereof, for his athletic services, and that he is in the proper and strict sense of the word an amateur player in collegiate athletic sports, before the Committee endorses his application.

10. It shall be the duty of the Graduate Manager, the Head Coach, the President and the Treasurer of the Athletic Association, the members of the Athletic Council, the Director of the Gymnasium, and the Manager and the Captain of the team concerned to furnish the Faculty Committee on Athletics, on request, a statement to the effect that each member of an athletic team is above their suspicion as to his eligibility to represent the University as an amateur player before such player shall be allowed to take part in any contest.

11. No student who has been a member of, or substitute member of, the football or baseball team of another college or University during the preceding college year shall be permitted to become a member of either team of this University during his first session, with the following exception: Such student shall be eligible for these teams at this University if he shall have registered in this University not later than within one week after the opening of the preceding spring term, and shall have been a student here during the said term.

NOTE 1. The term "substitute" is interpreted to mean a student who has taken part in two or more inter-collegiate contests.

NOTE 2. The term "college" is hereby interpreted to mean any college named in Table 28 of the Report of the U. S. Commissioner of Education for 1902, which has not fewer than 150 male students of collegiate grade recorded in the catalogue of the institution in question as students of the college year preceding the applicant's entrance into the University.

NOTE 3. The college year consists of one session divided into two terms.

12. No person whose name appears in the catalogue list of officers of instruction and administration of the University, and who receives remuneration therefrom, shall be a member of any athletic team representing the University.

13. The maximum period of eligibility for baseball and football shall be four years. In estimating the period of eligibility the years of baseball and football shall both be taken into account; but in no case shall a player be charged with four years' athletic work, unless at least four calendar years have elapsed from the time he entered upon his first intercollegiate contest, omitting from the calculation any sessional intermission by non-attendance. In case the player does not participate in either baseball or football during a college session, such session shall not be counted, but if such player does play on either the baseball or football team during any intermediate session, this shall count as if the player had played on both teams during such session.

14. No student of this University shall be eligible for any athletic team who shall have played upon, or been a member or substitute member of any of the professional or league teams in Classes A, B, C, and D, in the publication of the American Sports Company. To the list of professional teams thus prescribed shall be added all league teams in any state or states, which the leading university of such state or states declares professional and from which it debars its own players.

15. The Faculty Committee on Athletics is directed to assume responsible charge of the details of the Athletic situation and to permit the playing of intercollegiate games with such colleges only as express a general conformity with the code of rules adopted by this faculty. The term "general conformity" is interpreted to mean conformity in regard to period of residence, maximum period of eligibility and amateur standing.

ELIGIBILITY RULES OF THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

1. The Faculty Committee on Athletics is intrusted with the general oversight of athletics, and is authorized to forbid any features in these exercises which endanger the health or morals of the participants, and to foster the true spirit of amateur sport among them.

2. No student shall play upon the University athletic teams except after physical examination by the Director of the Gymnasium (or by a responsible expert officer of the University acting in his stead and by his request) and with the approbation of the Director.

3. Only students who act as regular or substitute members of the athletic teams will be granted leaves of absence to accompany them on trips away from the university, except during vacation and holidays.

4. Special reports may be made to the President from time to time by any minor faculty with respect to the class-standing and progress in study of each regular and substitute player on the athletic teams, and if the president and such faculty are convinced that the class-standing is discreditable, such student may be required to sever his connection with such team.

5. The athletic teams should not have contests elsewhere than upon the university grounds with any except teams from other institutions of learning.

6. Before any student can become a member or substitute member of any athletic team in the University and take part in any intercollegiate contest, he shall make application in a prescribed form in writing to the Faculty Committee on Athletics, and secure the endorsed approval of the Committee to his application. It shall be the duty of the Athletic Committee to have the executive officers of the University endorse such application to the effect that the applicant is an unconditionally registered student of the University.

7. It shall be the duty of the Athletic Committee to inquire into and make a record of the athletic experiences of the applicant, and it shall be the duty of the applicant to appear before the Committee and answer on his honor such questions as the Committee may see fit to ask.

8. It shall be the duty of the Athletic Committee, before it endorses an application, to require a pledge in writing of the applicant certifying on his honor that he has never received directly or indirectly remuneration, compensatory gift, valuable consideration, or the promise thereof for or on account of his athletic services, and that he is in the proper and strict sense of the word an amateur athlete.

9. No student who has been a member or a substitute member of a football or a baseball team of another college or University shall be permitted to become a member of either team of this University during his first session; but in no case shall such student be eligible for these teams at this University unless he shall have been a student here at least five months. The above provision shall also apply to all students who enter this university with less than 10 units,

10. No person whose name appears in the catalogue list of officers of instruction and administration of the University and who receives remuneration therefrom, shall be a member of any athletic team representing the University.

11. It shall be the duty of the President of the Athletic Association, the Executive Committee of the Association, the Manager and the Captain of the team concerned, the Director of the Gymnasium, the Associate Director of Athletics, the Treasurer of the Association, to furnish on request, a statement to the effect that each member of an athletic team is above their suspicion as to his eligibility to represent the University as a proper amateur player, before such player shall be allowed to take part in any contest.

12. No "coach" not an alumnus and no "trainer" not an officer of the University, shall be employed for the purpose of instructing or training any athletic team in this University.

13. The members of any athletic team may be allowed not more than eight days leave of absence from the University for the purpose of engaging in athletic contests; but no student who is a member of more than one athletic team shall be allowed more than sixteen days during the entire season for such purpose.

14. "Training tables" for football, baseball, and track teams are hereby abolished.

15. No student of this University shall be eligible for any athletic team who shall have played upon or been a member or substitute member of any of the professional or league teams named in classes A, B, C, and D, in the publication of the American Sports Company. To the list of professional teams thus prescribed shall be added all league teams in any state or states, which the leading University of such state or states declares professional and from which it debars its own players.

16. The term "college" as used in the Faculty Regulations concerning athletics is hereby interpreted to mean any college named in Table 28 of the Report of the U. S. Commissioner of Education. In case such faculty fails to distinguish between students of collegiate and preparatory grade, the president of the college concerned shall be requested to render or to authorize an official decision of the members belonging to each head.

17. The term "substitute" is interpreted to mean a student who has taken part in an intercollegiate contest.

18. The Faculty Committee on Athletics is directed to assume responsible charge of the details of the athletic situation and to permit the playing of intercollegiate games with such colleges only as express a general conformity with the code of rules adopted by this faculty. The term "general conformity" is interpreted to mean conformity in regard to period of residence, maximum period of eligibility and amateur standing.

19. The maximum period of eligibility for baseball or football shall be four years. In estimating the period of eligibility the years of baseball and football shall both be taken into account; but in no case shall a player be charged with four years' athletic work, unless at least four calendar years have elapsed from the time he entered upon his inter-collegiate contest omitting from the calculation any sessional intermission by non-attendance. In case the player does not participate in either baseball or football during a college session, such session shall not be counted, but if such player does play on either the baseball or the football team during any intermediate session, this shall count as if the player had played on both teams during such session.

THE RULES COMPARED

A comparison of these regulations shows the desired identity in the three essential requirements in regard to the period of residence, maximum period of eligibility and amateur standing. The regulations concerning the period of residence exhibit a slight difference. Virginia requires an athlete from another college to have been a student at Virginia five months in the preceding year in order to qualify in the current year. Carolina requires such a student to have registered for his residence within one week after the opening of the spring term in order to qualify in the current year. This difference is due to the difference in the time of the commencement of the spring term and means that at Virginia the athlete must have registered by January twelfth and at Carolina by February the fifth of the preceding year.

The other points of difference grow out of less material requirements adapted to the particular conditions of each institution. The Virginia athletic system is so well established as not to need a professional coach. Carolina is in the process of establishing the Princeton system and Princeton coaches are indispensable to its establishment. Virginia has abolished the training table for all forms of athletics, Carolina still retains it for football. Other less important differences have to do with the consent of parents or guardian to a student's participation in athletic contests, the definition of a substitute, and the number of days for which leave of absence is granted during a season.

On the important point of scholarship, the difference is in the definiteness of the requirement in the Carolina regulations. The scholarship requirement at Virginia debars a player for class standing that is discreditable in the opinion of the president and the faculty and furthermore applies the residence rule to students who enter with credits amounting to less than ten units. The scholarship requirement at Carolina debars a player who has not passed on eight hours of work in the previous year or who is deficient in a majority of his studies in mid-term.

The adoption of these rules mark an advance in representative sport at Carolina. However, we are not abreast of Vanderbilt and Georgia, two of our coming rivals and leaders in the athletics of the lower South. A glance at the regulations of the Eastern universities and at the rules of the Western Conference, shows how far Virginia and Carolina have yet to go in order to secure the highest guarantees of pure sportsmanship.

In the S. I. A. A. the nine months rule against athletes from other colleges is in force and fourteen units are required for any first year man to be eligible. In the representative universities of the East and the West, only undergraduates are eligible who have completed a full year's college work in residence the previous year and the maximum period of eligibility is limited to three years. Scholarship requirements are enforced for failure the previous year and for deficiency in the term. Little or no concession is made for laboratory work. Training tables are abolished. Soliciting athletes by any athletic official of the college is absolutely under the ban. Amateur athletics is promoted at every possible point. All over the country there is a forward movement for clean and representative sport.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC ATHLETIC CONTESTS

Announcement has been made of two events which will prove important in the athletic life of North Carolina secondary and high schools this Spring. These are the second annual inter-scholastic track meet, to be held at Chapel Hill on April 3rd under the auspices of the Greater Council and Alumni Athletic Association of the University of North Carolina, and the first annual championship contest in baseball, to be held at Chapel Hill on some date to be determined later, under the auspices of the Alumni Athletic Association of the University.

All secondary schools of North Carolina, however supported, are eligible to send representatives to contest in the inter-scholastic track meet. The events of the meet will be: One-hundred-yard dash, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, one-mile run, 120-yard low hurdles, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, twelve-pound shot put, twelve-pound hammer throw, and a relay race.

AWARD CUPS

To the school which wins the largest number of points a championship cup will be awarded. This cup at present is in the possession of the High Point High School, the winner of the meet last year. The school which wins the relay race will be awarded a cup. To every contestant winning a first place in any event, a silver medal will be awarded, and to every contestant winning a second place a bronze medal will be awarded. All contestants coming to Chapel Hill for the meet will be entertained by the students of the University.

BASEBALL CONTEST

For this year the championship contest in baseball is open only to public high schools, city and rural. The committee at Chapel Hill will arrange a series of games in a preliminary contest for all high school baseball teams, city and rural, which have up to and including May 2nd won as many as four games from teams representing schools of similar rank, and have not been defeated. To be eligible to enter this preliminary contest a school must fulfill the requirement of having won four games and lost none.

Through the process of elimination in this preliminary contest, two teams will be selected which will come to Chapel Hill to play the final game for the State championship. The General Alumni Athletic Association will bear all expenses, including transportation both ways and hotel bills, of the two teams selected for the final contest, and will provide entertainment for these two teams while they are on the Hill. This final game will be played some time in May, the exact date to be determined later, after consultation with the high school men and teams.

MORE INTEREST IN FOOTBALL

The championship contest in football which was carried to a successful issue last fall was highly encouraging and resulted in deepening the interest of quite a number of high schools in football. The contest in football, the track meet, and the contest in baseball are a natural part of the University's larger activities, particularly in the high school life of the State, and they are ranked along with the High School Debating Union, in which already more than 150 schools are enrolled for a state-wide debating tourney this Spring.

The committee which has in charge the matter of arranging these contests is composed of N. W. Walker, chairman; E. R. Rankin, secretary; T. G. Trenchard, C. E. Ervin, Oscar Leach, and N. J. Cartmell.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS

Of the 1913 baseball team six are in college now eligible to play, Hart, catcher, Ayeock and Craven, pitchers, K. Bailey, captain, second baseman, Johnson, and H. Bailey, outfielders. Other members of the squad who will again be out for the team are Norris, first-baseman, Knowles, catcher, and Zollicoffer, outfielder.

"Shag Thompson," last year's left fielder, Kluttz of the Medical School, and Lee, of the Law School, are ineligible on account of having played league ball. Lee will be with the Winston team again. Thompson was annexed by Connie Mack from Durham and has been farmed out to Chattanooga. Kluttz has quit the diamond.

Scholarship requirements have taken their toll of several bright hopes. An outlaw organization of the lights that failed is being formed. "Join the Federals" is the consoling behest of Manager Joe Tinker Thompson (alias "Shag"). The Associated Rumors have it that Gooch, the 400 hitting outfielder, Cowell, Groom, Tandy and Edwards, the giant first baseman, have all gone back on the regular organization. The Federals intend to make the Regulars keep on the jump this season.

Raymond Lee, '12, who blanked Virginia three times and bested Rixey in two series, will report for duty as special coach of pitchers on February 15th and will assist Coach Earle Mack until March 15th. "General" Lee should make an excellent coach for a college staff of pitchers. He ran the course from an ordinary class team twirler to the premier pitcher of the Carolina league.

CAROLINA QUINTET TAKES TWO FROM CHARLOTTE

During the Christmas holidays the Carolina basketball team defeated the strong team representing the Charlotte Y. M. C. A. in two games by the scores of 42 to 32 and 52 to 29. It was really a game of Charlotte against Charlotte. Four of the six Carolina players were Charlotte lads, the Long brothers, Carey Dowd, and Preston Andrews. The long reach of Edwards and the shooting of Mebane Long and Dowd ran up the score for Carolina.

The first game after the holidays was won by the Durham Y. M. C. A. in Durham by the score of 42 to 31. The game before Christmas was won by Carolina by the score of 31 to 24. The deciding game will be played in the auditorium at Raleigh. George Carrington, Carolina's centre for several seasons, is playing right guard for Durham.

CAROLINA 23, GUILFORD 22

In the most interesting game of the schedule to date Carolina defeated Guilford in Greensboro January 30th by the score of 23 to 22. At the end of the second half the score stood 22 to 22. For five extra minutes the game was continued without another score. Guilford missed two chances to score from fouls. With three seconds to play Guilford fouled and Captain Long threw the decisive goal. The defensive work of Johnson and Tennant was an important part.

This is Guilford's first defeat on her own floor in the history of basketball there.

Elon won the first game of the season in Chapel Hill. A third game will be played.

The mid-winter meeting of the Board of Trustees was held in the Governor's office in Raleigh, January 27th, at 11 A. M., a large number of the Board and Acting President Graham being in attendance. The following business was transacted.

The reports of the President and Acting President, conveying the reports of all the officers of the University, were presented and received. The work of the University thus summarized showed the largest attendance in the University's history and evidenced progress in every department.

Upon the presentation of a letter from the Y. M. C. A. asking for permission to apply to John D. Rockefeller for $50,000 for a new Y. M. C. A. building, a resolution was passed pledging a sum of $600 annually to the maintenance of the building in the event it was secured.

Professor H. H. Williams, of the Department of Philosophy, was granted a year's leave of absence, beginning September 1, to spend in study at Northern universities.

Athletics and the Bureau of Extension received consideration. It was decided that the matter of resuming athletic relations with the A. & M. College and all other athletic questions involving eligibility rules, schedules, etc., should be left entirely in the hands of the faculty. A formal resolution was passed in commendation of the work of the Bureau of Extension.

$2,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of the Summer School for 1914.

In the absence of Dr. R. H. Lewis, Mr. Charles Whedbee served as Secretary. The following members of the Board were present: Governor Locke Craig, Charles Whedbee, L. T. Hartsell, J. C. Pritchard, J. S. Carr, H. A. London, Victor S. Bryant, Charles Lee Smith, Thomas H. Battle, A. M. Seales, James A. Gray, Jr., W. R. Edmonds, Charles C. Laughlin, David Stern, John A. Parker, George B. McLeod, M. T. Hawkins, N. M. Ferabee, F. P. Holgood, George M. Rose, Benchan Cameron, John G. Lamb, William A. Guthrie, Henry Weil, Walter Murphy, Claudius Doekery, W. N. Everett, W. T. Whitsett, J. Bryan Grimes, A. W. Graham, T. J. Gold, E. A. Abernethy, R. S. Hutcheson, Fred J. Coxe, T. D. Warren, R. D. W. Connor, F. G. James, J. D. Proctor, J. S. Maunig, Z. V. Walser, Dr. K. P. Battle, J. Y. Joyner, J. S. Hill, F. A. Woodard, and W. R. Dalton.

PROF. E. C. BRANSON BECOMES PROFESSOR OF APPLIED ECONOMICS AND RURAL SOCIOLOGY

As a further step in its effort to contribute to the forces that are building up North Carolina, the University announces the election, at the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, of E. C. Branson, Professor of Rural Economics in the State Normal School of Athens, Ga., as Professor of Applied Economics and Rural Sociology. Professor Branson's acceptance of the new professorship has been received and his connection with the University will begin September 1, 1914.

Professor Branson's work at the University will be similar to that in which he has been engaged in Georgia where he originated the "Georgia Club" or "Know Your Home State Club" idea and gave it such practical form that it is being widely adopted throughout the country. His courses in the University will be intensive studies of the resources, conditions, and tendencies in North Carolina's economic history, studied county by county. His work will supplement the present efficient work in political science and economics, and will extend the University's influence directly in helping sympathetically and scientifically the various counties in the State in the solution of local questions.

having been born in Morehead City. He taught in Raleigh and Wilson in the early nineties and in 1896 organized the public schools of Athens, Ga. From 1900 to 1912, he was President of the State Normal School of Athens, and since 1912 has been Professor of Rural Economics and Director of the Know Your Home State Clubs of Georgia. At the same time he has been editor of the Home and Farmstead, through which the studies of the clubs and other economic and social studies have been given to the people of the South.

Professor Branson is the author of several educational texts, and has frequently been in demand at leading universities and educational conferences. During the present year he has conducted special studies at this University and the University of the South Carolina, has spoken before the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, and has delivered a series of lectures before the students of Columbia University. His work in the field of rural sociology has been so distinctive that he has been asked to serve on various commissions of the Federal Government and his work with the student groups of Georgia has been made the subject of a special bulletin issued by the U. S. Bureau of Education under the title, "The Georgia Club."

THE UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE

Under the editorship of W. P. Fuller, the University Magazine is this year a genuinely up-to-date, forceful college monthly. It will hold its own with any other monthly which reaches the exchange tables in the Y. M. C. A.

The January number, attractive in cover and typography, contains three papers which are of decided interest. The first summarizes the views of religion held by twenty-one Juniors and fifteen Seniors; the second presents an admirable statement of the reasons why the faculty committee on athletics can be trusted to do the right thing in the administration of rules for gridiron and diamond contests; and the third treats historically and pictorially of the ups and downs of the Magazine itself since its beginning in 1844.

In the last article, nine covers under which the Magazine has appeared are reproduced; the names of those who were instrumental in founding and revivifying the publication from time to time, are mentioned; and a running story of its life is given. Many a former editor's name appears in the history, and its reading by former students whom the "Di" and "Phi" honored with editorial offices will prove of peculiar interest.

DRAMATIC CLUB'S EASTERN SCHEDULE

The University Dramatic Club is again preparing to put on its annual production. This year, in an effort to retain the humor and general hilarity which characterized last year's production of "What Happened to Jones," and, at the same time, to raise dramatics to a higher plane and produce a play worthy of a University organization, "The Magistrate" by Arthur W. Pinero was chosen for presentation. Sir Arthur Wing Pinero stands out as one of the most eminent of living English dramatists, and his play "The Magistrate" is in no way unworthy of its author. It is one of his most characteristic comedies,—full of humor and sparkling with wit.

Mr. W. P. M. Weeks, of Washington, D. C., who played "Prof. Goody" in last year's production of "What Happened to Jones," is playing the title rôle of "The Magistrate." Those who saw last year's play will probably recall with pleasure the portrayal of the irrepressible "Jones," Mr. Chas. L. Coggin, of Salisbury, N. C. He is this year playing "Colonel Lukyn," the rôle played by John Drew in the first American production. Several others of last year's cast are in this year's play. The members of the cast are: W. D. Kerr, Greensboro; H. C. Conrad, Pfafftown; W. B. Pitts, Charlotte; H. J. Renn, Oxford; J. M. Cox, Hertford; J. F. Pugh, Elizabeth City; C. A. Boseman, Enfield; H. M. Blalock, Raleigh; E. B. Marsh, Salisbury; J. E. Hoover, High Point; M. R. Dummagan, Yadkinville, and J. A. Capps, Shelby.

Before the REVIEW comes from press, the play will have had its première in Chapel Hill (February 6th) and will have been presented at the State Normal, Greensboro (February 7th). The manager of the Club, Mr. J. S. Bryan, has succeeded in arranging the following engagements for the eastern trip in February: 14th, St. Mary's, Raleigh; 17th, Wilson; 18th, Eastern Carolina Training School, Greenville; 19th, Newbern; 20th, Wilmington; and 21st, Clinton.

The western trip will be taken in April, and will probably include Salem College (Winston-Salem), Charlotte, Salisbury and Statesville.

CALIFORNIA CHALLENGES CAROLINA

The Carolina Debating Union has recently had the unexpected pleasure of considering a challenge for a series of two debates with the Law School of the University of Southern California. It was proposed that the debate for 1914 be held in Los Angeles, in which city there is an extensive North Carolina Club, and that the second be held in 1915 in North Carolina. Engagements with other rivals at home made it impossible for the Union to close the contract.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE PRESS

Resolutions commending the University were passed as follows by the Farmers' Union and its Educational Committee at the Union's meeting held at Shelby in December.

By the Union:

Whereas, we note with pleasure that the State Board of Agriculture has recommended that the Governor set apart a week in next November as "Civic Service Week," for holding local fairs, county school rallies, meetings to discuss plans for county and neighborhood improvement, etc.; and the Board has recommended a conference of various State institutions and departments to consider plans for working together more effectively than ever before in service to the people of the State, therefore be it

Resolved, That we hartily endorse both suggestions and offer the co-operation of the State Union; and that a committee of three be appointed to bring this action to the attention of the Governor and the Department of Agriculture.

By the Educational Committee:

(1.) We congratulate the State Union at large upon the splendid success it has achieved during the past year along educational lines. Perhaps nothing has been done in the last quarter century that will have so far-reaching an effect upon the pattern and texture of the fabric of our citizenship as the six-months' school law and the compulsory attendance act, both of which owe their passage to our organization.

(2.) Especially do we commend the State University for its recent effort along the line of Country Life Work.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS CONFER

The annual mid-winter Council meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs met in Chapel Hill, January 15th and 16th, upon the invitation of the Community Club. The General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and John S. Cansler, as a representative of the Greater Student Council, met the visitors at University Station. The University kindly offered the use of the Peabody Building for meetings. Reports from the officers of the Federation, from chairmen of all departments, and of special committees were presented for discussion; and the May meeting in Fayetteville was planned in detail. The outstanding features of these reports were the plea for the establishment of winter gardens and kitchenettes in schools by Mrs. Carter, Chairman of Household Economics, and the plan of Mrs. Lingle to bring into the State a lecturer from the National Civic Association, who would deliver an illustrated lecture on civic improvement, form Junior Civic leagues and get the children to work.

The Community Club held a large meeting in the Peabody Auditorium Thursday night at which excellent talks were made by Miss Fries, President of the Federation, by Mrs. Lingle, Chairman of Civics, and by Mrs. Hook, Chairman of Economics. Friday night a very beautiful reception was held in the library at which members of the Council had an opportunity of meeting members of the faculty and of the Community Club. Mrs. J. H. Pratt gave a luncheon on Thursday and Mrs. Archibald Henderson on Friday and on Friday afternoon Dr. Battle gave much pleasure by taking the ladies over the campus.

THE MUSICAL CLUBS' EASTERN TRIP

The Glee and Mandolin clubs of the University took a three day trip in the Eastern part of the State during the second week in December. They visited Goldsboro on December 11, Wilson on the 12th, and Raleigh on the 13th. At each place they were given a most cordial welcome and jolly time by the Alumni and citizens of the town; it would be hard to say where they had the best time.

In Goldsboro, Tom Norwood and Guy Dortch managed the business part and so well had they performed their task, that a large and enthusiastic audience greeted the boys in the Opera House with hearty applause for each number presented. After the performance the boys stormed a Methodist-bazaar and bought all the chicken salad and boudoir caps that could be had.

Blake Applewhite and Jim Haekney chaperoned the troupe at Wilson. By the kindness and generosity of the Atlantic Christian College, the concert was held in its auditorium. A goodly portion of the audience was composed of fair co-eds whose generous applause inspired the boys to do their best.

Saturday morning, December 13, the musicians took Raleigh by storm. At the station they were met by Joe Boushall who escorted them to the Capital Club where they were entertained till dinner. In the afternoon they were invited to a dance at the Country Club where, needless to say, a most delightful time was had. The concert was given in the Auditorium and though it was not filled, those who were present atoned for this fact by the warm reception they gave the musicians. It was unfortunate that the girls from St. Mary's were detained by an entertainment of their own; but the fair ones from Peace and Meredith were present in large numbers.

At each place the towns-people entertained the boys in their homes who in turn have only words of the highest praise to tell of the hospitality received in every case.

The Clubs will take their Spring trip during the last week of February and expect to visit Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Hickory, Lenoir, Gastonia, and Charlotte. The following is the personnel of the clubs:

Glee Club: First Tenor—E. M. Deaton, G. Harden, E. W. Jarman, M. H. Meeks, W. A. Rudisill, M. Stubbs, W. C. Wright; Second Tenor—E. P. Andrews, L. H. Clements, F. W. Hancock, J. T. Pritchett, J. A. Taylor, E. A. Hill, G. M. Sneath; First Bass—C. W. Beckwith, P. H. Epps, G. M. Long, R. H. Long, R. N. Page, W. C. Lord; Second Bass—H. L. Brockman, W. M. Hicks, E. P. Jones, J. F. Love, W. N. Pritchard, C. B. Woltz.

Mandolin Club: G. M. Long, M. H. Meeks, W. A. Rudisill, W. C. Wright, L. H. Clements, E. P. Jones, W. C. Lord, H. Cone, J. L. Wright, W. H. Royster.

DR. BROWN MARRIES

On Wednesday afternoon, January 14th, at four o'clock, Miss Mary Berry, daughter of Mrs. Mary Strayhorn Berry, of Chapel Hill, and Dr. Kent Jones Brown, of the Department of German, were married at the Berry residence on Columbia avenue.

THE FACULTY ATTEND LEARNED AND SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY MEETINGS

dent of a newly formed Southern section of the Association.

Professors Cobb, Coker, Pratt, and Smith, the American Society for the Advancement of Science, at Atlanta. Dr. Pratt presented a paper on "Economics of Convict Labor in Road Construction," and Professor Cobb on "The Physiographic Reasons for Atlanta's Greatness."

Professors Hamilton, Wagstaff, and Henderson, the American Historical Association. Dr. Hamilton presided over the conferences on "The Teaching of History," and Dr. Henderson presented a paper on "Creative Forces in Western Expansion."

Professors MacNider and H. V. Wilson attended the American Pharmacological and American Biological Associations, respectively. Dr. MacNider was elected treasurer.

DR. SATO, JAPANESE EXCHANGE LECTURER

The lecture engagements of Dr. Soshuke Sato Exchange Lecturer from Japan, which were begun while the Review was at press are given below as follows:

February 9, "From Old Feudalism to New Imperialism;" February 10, "Social Changes and Reforms Since the Restoration;" February 11, "Local Autonomy and Constitutional Government;" February 16, "Agricultural Credits and Rural Sociology;" February 18, "Educational System and Religious Movements."

Announcement has been made by the Columbia University Studies in History, Economics, and Public Law that it will soon issue in a volume in that series Dr. J. G. deRoulhaac Hamilton's extensive historical work entitled: "Reconstruction in North Carolina."

"European Dramatists," by Dr. Archibald Henderson, was issued by Stewart & Kidd Co. during the holidays. A review of it will appear in a later number of the Review.

On Dec. 27th Miss Nannie Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. L. Smith, of Chapel Hill, and Mr. L. J. Upton, of Norfolk, were married in Norfolk, Va., at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. S. Pope.

Acting President Graham was the contributor of "Keeping Money at Home" in Harper's Weekly of January 16th.

Dr. James F. Royster, of the Department of English, will be a member of the Summer School faculty of the University of Minnesota.

THE ALUMNI

W. S. BERNARD, '00, Alumni Editor

It is the purpose of this department not only to publish all timely facts of interest about alumni—changes of residence and occupation, marriages, deaths, meetings, achievements, etc., but also to trace alumni of whom the University and their classmates have no record since their leaving college, thus bringing the class histories up to date. Therefore items of information are solicited from all alumni and their friends but especially are the secretaries of the associations and the secretaries of the classes requested to keep the editor informed. Notes on a few alumni in each city or county and class contributed every month will be greatly appreciated.

CLASS REUNIONS FOR COMMENCEMENT 1914

The classes scheduled to hold reunions during Commencement 1914 are those of 1864, 1889, 1894, 1904, 1909, 1913, the one-, five-, ten-, twenty-, twenty-five-, and fifty-year graduates. Members of these classes will facilitate preparation for these reunions if they will place themselves at once in communication with their respective class secretaries and with W. S. Bernard, Chairman of Committee on Class Reunions, Chapel Hill, N. C.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS

Two new associations have been organized since University Day: The Macon County Alumni Association at Franklin, S. H. Lyle, Jr., '08, president and R. D. Sisk, '04, secretary; and the Gaston County Alumni Association at Gastonia, A. G. Mangum, '03, president, and E. R. Rankin, '13, secretary.

FRANKLIN

On Wednesday, Dec. 31, the Alumni of Macon County held a banquet at the home of Mr. J. S. Robinson, of Franklin, and organized the Macon County Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina. Mr. F. S. Johnston, of the Franklin bar, presided as toastmaster.

Officers of the permanent association were elected as follows: President, S. H. Lyle, Jr., '08; Secretary, R. D. Sisk, '04; Treasurer, S. L. Franks. Other alumni present were: F. S. Johnston, Law '03, T. J. Johnston, ex-'06, Law '09, Harry F. Barnard, '04, J. R. Sloan, '12, H. T. Sloan, '14, Louis Angel, '14, Firman Angel, '17, J. C. Barnard, '17, C. S. Sloan, '17, A. L. Ramsey, '17, C. C. Daniels, Jr., '17, J. W. Jones, '17.—C. C. DANIELS, JR.

GASTONIA

On the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 30, the alumni of Gaston County met at a banquet at the Falls House, Gastonia, and organized the Gaston Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina. The banquet was informal, the spirit of comradeship, humor and song prevailing. The University songs were printed in full in a neat programme. Mr. A. G. Mangum, '03, was toastmaster and admirably happy in introducing the speakers. Mr. John G. Carpenter, Law, '04, of the local bar, extended a hearty welcome to the visiting alumni present. Mr. George B. Mason spoke on the subject of "Athletics at Carolina."

Professor Marvin H. Stacy, '02, acting dean of the University, was the guest of honor and the principal speaker of the evening. Professor Stacy's subject was "The Obligations of the University to the State." He compared the old ideal of a University as embodied by Ezra Cornell in the institution which bears his name with the newer ideal. The present day University will not only furnish opportunity for instruction and investigation in any line of work and study, but must devote itself to the social service of the State, extending its influence, its specialized knowledge, in immediate service, to every nook and corner of the State. The University of North Carolina had passed through a wonderful transformation during the past fifteen years in material equipment, size of student body and faculty, but above all in its realization of its duty to the State and the people outside its campus. The University was realizing this new awakening not simply on paper but by far reaching activities; the creation of the Department of Education; the extension of the Library in making it accessible through express and parcel post, through its bulletins and book-lists of special subjects; the extension of the lecture courses and the creation of the correspondence courses; the organization of the High School Debating Union and other activities which the self-governing student body were quietly and successfully working out. He appealed, in closing, to the Gaston County Alumni to keep the best interests of the University on their hearts.

Officers of the permanent association elected were; President, A. G. Mangum, '03; Vice-President, George B. Mason, '13; Secretary-Treasurer, E. R. Rankin, '13.

Alumni present were: A. G. Mangum, M. H. Stacy, J. G. Carpenter, Carl Carpenter, G. B. Mason, E. C. Adams, Carl Finger, J. Robert Craig, C. N. Smith, Will Wetzell, Fred Wetzell, Leslie Reid, W. K. Reid, Ralph Patrick, O. P. Rhyne, E. R. Rankin, D. P. Dellinger, Thad Clinton, Roland Clinton, Oscar Shannon, of Gastonia, J. H. Workman, Joe Nixon, Horace Sisk, of Cherryville, Floyd Whitney, J. H. Ramseur, R. H. Rowe, R. H. Garren, of Bessemer City, J. W. Reid, P. P. Murphy, of Lowell, Ed. C. Ray, McAdenville, C. B. Hoke, of Lenoir; E. E. Witherspoon, representing The Progress, and J. W. Atkins, representing the Gazette.

GOLDSBORO

The annual banquet of the Wayne County Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina was held on the evening of Dec. 30 in the Elks' Club of Goldsboro. An admirable feature of this meeting of the Association was the presence by invitation of many students of the county and city High Schools. The credit for this idea seems due to the Wayne County Club at the University and might be imitated by other Associations with valuable results to the University and to the prospective college students.

Mr. Matt H. Allen, '04, presided as toastmaster, tactfully postponing speechmaking until cigars and coffee. This plan of procedure not only lessens formality but gives opportunity for renewing auld acquaintance and sharpening reminiscences.

Mr. Wm. S. Bernard, '00, of the University faculty was the first speaker, his subject, "The Newer University in Social Service to the State." He said that a new birth, a new ideal had come into University activity with the enthusiasm of a religious revival, quickening faculty and students alike. This ideal was, in the apt words of Acting President Graham, "To make the campus co-extensive with the State," to distribute and apply the knowledge and methods already gained in the laboratories and lecture rooms to the immediate and imminent needs of the people, to render services in civic, rural, social and educational endeavor. This was no sentimental ideal or typewritten programme, but already a well oiled piece of machinery turning out results under the brand University Extension. University Extension comprised thus far six phases of activity:

1. Correspondence Courses on any subject offered to any qualified to take them.

2. Lectures by members of the faculty on any subject, delivered anywhere in the State free of all charge save traveling expenses.

3. Access to the University library by means of express and parcel post.

4. The Statewide High School Debating Union organized by the Students of the University.

5. The Inter-high school football and track athletic contests, also a student endeavor.

6. The County Clubs at the University and their aim to render service to their respective counties by "social and economic surveys." But however much or little the definite service rendered, the great fact for congratulation was the giving back to the State in heart and purpose her greatest institution.

Mr. Bernard was followed by Coach T. G. Trenchard, of the University, who gave a short history of the year's endeavor in athletics on the Hill and outlined the purposes and needs of the Athletic Management. He dealt particularly on the handicaps which University teams carried in competition with the University of Virginia.

Professor M. C. S. Noble, '81, devoted himself to entertaining the banqueters with his inexhaustible fund of humor and reminiscence.

Other speeches were made at the call of the toastmaster by Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, '80; Mr. Don C. Humphrey, '06, on the value of the University Extension; Mr. K. C. Royall, '14, in behalf of the Wayne County Club at the University for co-operation on the part of the Wayne Alumni.

Those present were:

S. F. Teague, '10; D. C. Humphrey, '06; D. R. Kornegay, '03; R. H. Edwards, '14; J. P. Shrago, '16; G. E. Egerton, '15; H. I. Shrago, '17; W. B. Fort, '62; G. C. Royall, '16; H. P. Yelverton, '13; G. "The victory over the Navy, taking into consideration all the brands of football played by the West Pointers, belongs first to the team, and second to purely Army coaching. It is true, of course, that the Army's head coach was influenced to some extent by his football schooling at Harvard University, but it must be remembered that Lieut. Daly was also a remarkable player while a cadet at West Point, and that his chief assistant, Capt. Ernest Graves, was a product of the same school, although like his chief, thoroughly in touch with Harvard football. The theories of line play promulgated by Capt. WHY MAKE A WILL

If you have accumulated property during your lifetime you will wish to bestow that property in certain ways. To do so the making of a will is necessary.

The careful planning, drawing and execution of a will is the most solemn act of a man's life and one that a man should never overlook. If this important matter is neglected then the courts will do what the individual should have done. It will appoint an administrator of your estate.

In taking this action the court will do what it believes to be right, but during life, or after death, no thinking man wants another to determine how he will dispose of his accumulations.

It is important that you make a will, and it is also important that in the will you name a prudent and able executor. Why not name the
